

StudioClassroom.com Wins Golden Learning Award

On August 17, 2004, ORTV was presented with the Golden Learning Award in recognition of excellence for the StudioClassroom.com website. This was part of the 10th Annual Golden Learning Award Contest for Educational Software and Websites. This event is organized by the Institute for Information Industry (資策會), a non-profit organization that assists the Taiwan government in developing the nation's information technology industry. Entrants' websites were judged on various criteria including creativity of design, abundance of content and educational value. The Studio Classroom website was launched in 2002 and offers features such as articles from Let's Talk in English, Studio Classroom, and Advanced, 24/7 broadcasts of our daily TV and radio programs, and an "English Corner" discussion forum for users to interact with English Department staff. The website currently receives an average of over 300,000 visits a month.

StudioClassroom.com Web Content Manager Gareth Morgan